Aviation Moves Tennessee

Tennessee's aviation system has 76 public-use airports that support a wide range of activities, from commercial airline travel to private aircraft operations. Aviation contributes approximately 9% of Tennessee's gross domestic product (GDP) and generates an estimated $53.8 billion in total economic impact across the state. To better understand how these airports support Tennessee's economy, the Tennessee Department of Transportation (TDOT) Aeronautics Division conducted an updated Aviation Economic Impact Study.

About Colonel Tommy C. Stiner Airfield

Located near the City of Jacksboro in Campbell County, Colonel Tommy C. Stiner Airfield (JAU) serves a predominantly rural area in northeast Tennessee. The airport provides important aviation access in a region where ground travel can be limited by longer distances between population centers, supporting both community connectivity and essential services.

Colonel Tommy C. Stiner Airfield is a publicly owned, public-use general aviation airport featuring a 4,000-foot runway capable of accommodating a variety of general aviation aircraft. The runway supports recreational flying, business travel, and public-service aviation activity while enhancing regional accessibility.

Several aviation-related tenants operate on-airport and contribute to daily activity. Campbell County Aviation, Inc. provides general aviation services that support visiting pilots and based aircraft. In addition, Med-Trans Corporation maintains an on-airport presence, supporting air-ambulance operations that provide critical medical transport for the region.
